

Esker Kicks Off EAUC 2015: Its Largest Educational and Collaborative Event of the Year

Customers, partners and business leaders join together to share ideas, gain expert insights and explore new document process automation strategies

Madison, Wis. — April 13, 2015 — Esker, a worldwide leader in document process automation solutions, today announces the start of the 2015 Esker Americas User Conference \(EAUC\), a two-day event taking place at the Monona Terrace Convention Center® in Madison, Wisconsin, on April 14-15.

As Esker's flagship conference event, EAUC 2015 offers customers, partners and business leaders a unique opportunity to network with peers, hear from third-party industry experts and optimize their strategies for improving critical business processes. At the end of each day attendees will gather for special evening events in Madison — one of America's most lively and celebrated cities, as well as the home to Esker's U.S. headquarters.

Key areas of focus for this year's EAUC agenda include:

- Improving document automation in Accounts Payable and Order Processing
- Technical courses including 1-on-1 consultations with Esker experts and hands-on lab time
- Esker's new analytics and audit trail solution dashboards
- Collaborative panelist discussions featuring Esker experts, industry experts and attendees

"The environment that an event like EAUC creates for everyone involved is truly one of collaboration and comradery," said Steve Smith, U.S. Chief Operating Officer at Esker Americas. "There's no doubt that today's businesses have to keep evolving in how they process and manage their documents, and EAUC provides a platform to work through common challenges and explore options for advancement."

Keynote Speakers & Customer Presentations

EAUC 2015 will also feature a distinguished panel of expert speakers offering their thought provoking advice and entertaining perspectives on a wide range of modern business topics. Speakers at this year's conference include: Darcy Luoma, Moses Altsech, Mark Brousseau, Henry Ijams and Adrian Posteraro.

Esker customers and partners will also join in on the presentations, highlighting how their involvement with Esker's solutions helped them overcome specific industry challenges and achieve new levels of business success.
