

Esker Announces Its Participation in 2013 SAPPHIRE[®] NOW and the ASUG Annual Conference

As an SAP[®] software solution and technology partner, Esker will highlight the benefits of using one integrated platform to Quit Paper[™] in any business process

Madison, Wis. and Orlando, Fla. — May 14, 2013 — Esker, a global leader in document process automation solutions, today announced its participation as a diamond-level exhibitor at [SAPPHIRE[®] NOW and the ASUG Annual Conference](#), being held May 14-16 at the Orange County Convention Center in Orlando.

Esker will present in Booth #1912, showcasing its expertise with helping companies automate business processes — whether it's accounts payable invoice processing, accounts receivable invoice delivery, order processing, cloud faxing or more — using a single platform.

Quit Paper. Live Easy.

Positioning its booth as a carefree, paperfree alternative to the stressful reality of manual document processing, Esker is sure to stand out. Conference attendees will recognize the booth by its laid-back look, complete with palm trees and surf simulator, as well as Esker's "Quit Paper. Live Easy." messaging.

"Presenting at SAPPHIRE NOW is always a thrill due to the significance of the event and the level of excitement it brings," said Steve Smith, U.S. Chief Operating Officer at Esker. "The pain of manual processing is well understood among users, so we're eager to highlight the benefits of using one SaaS platform to automate any paper-based process with SAP[®] solutions. We really want to emphasize the ease, comfort and stability a cloud computing solution like ours can bring to a company's internal processes, and we've reflected that in a fun and unique way in our booth."

Speaking session

On Tuesday, May 14, from 4:00-4:45 p.m. in Booth #1912, Steve Smith will present a comprehensive partner track session entitled: "Better Order Management: A Path to OTC Excellence and Competiveness" (session ID: 87216).

The presentation will outline specific ways that businesses can improve management of their orders, stay competitive in the ever-evolving marketplace, and facilitate growing order volumes without increasing staff headcount. The discussion will also explore the value of leveraging one platform to automate orders with SAP solutions to improve the order-to-cash cycle and reduce costs.

In addition to getting expert insight from industry leaders, attendees visiting the Esker booth can also request informational white papers, dig into case studies of Esker customers, and pick up a variety of beach-themed accessories including flashing sunglasses, beach balls and more — all made especially for the enjoyment of conference attendees and participants.
