Esker Adds InfoSource Imaging as Certified Partner

Partnership strengthens Esker presence in document management arena, key vertical markets

Madison, WI, August 1, 2005—Esker Software, a leading provider of intelligently automated document delivery solutions, today named as a certified partner InfoSource Imaging, a leading distributor of Electronic Content Management (ECM) systems. The partnership expands the Esker distribution channel within the document management marketplace and provides InfoSource Imaging customers the ability to add automated document delivery capabilities to their existing content management systems.

As an Esker Certified Partner, InfoSource Imaging will offer Esker DeliveryWare, a comprehensive electronic document management platform that automates information delivery quickly and accurately to and from enterprise applications. By keeping documents electronic, businesses are able to reduce costs, streamline business processes, simplify the IT infrastructure and increase productivity. Esker DeliveryWare also interacts with Esker on Demand, a web-based service that enables users of both enterprise applications and desktop programs to automate document output to be delivered via physical mail, fax or SMS.

InfoSource Imaging's sales reach spans a wide range of industries, with especially strong relationships among government agencies, manufacturing businesses and educational institutions. The company will not only act as a sales channel for the Esker DeliveryWare technology, but will also assist organizations with implementation and ongoing support services.

“InfoSource Imaging has been conducting successful implementations in the document management marketplace since content management systems first began to take shape. They have the first-hand integration experience necessary to help businesses understand how information flows and navigate the challenges with document management,” said Jon Schmidt, Director of Channel Sales, Americas, at Esker Software. “Further, InfoSource and Esker share the same vision for enterprises – of an environment where content is managed so efficiently that it is nearly paperless.”

“Esker DeliveryWare will enable us to provide our customers with enhanced automated document delivery capabilities without requiring major re-investment on their part,” said James Jackson, Vice President of Sales for InfoSource Imaging. “Integration is seamless and the platform is easy to use and maintain. The ability to offer this solution to existing customers will also further extend the success of our previous content management system implementations.”
