Proservartner Sign Partnership To Resell and Implement Esker AP and O2C Solutions

Derby, UK — October 5, 2023 — Esker, a global cloud platform and leader in AI-driven process automation solutions for Finance, Procurement and Customer Service functions, today announced a strategic partnership with Proservartner to transform Accounts Payable (AP) and Order-to-Cash (O2C) processes for businesses globally.

Proservartner creates cost efficiencies, standardises and optimises processes and enables agile back-office functions to give clients the competitive advantage they need. The company has a long heritage in setting up shared service centres, and its experienced team will take companies through every step of its automation journey. Proservartner will be both a reseller and implement Esker Accounts Payable and Order-to-Cash solutions.

The team is receiving training on Esker's solutions and will be fully up to speed to execute the automation journey of its customers soon.

“As our clients continue to demand product led transformation and require pragmatic solutions that provide for a specific need, the Esker partnership allows us to expand our footprint in hyper-automation. The platforms in S2P and O2C fit perfectly into our model for improving productivity, reducing costs, and delivering higher quality levels. They also complement our capability in RPA, chatbots, duplicate payments, statement reconciliations, task & process mining and generative AI.

“Together we will ensure that our clients have the best process expertise and the best technology, helping them to achieve more with less, and guarantee the desired outcomes that our clients demand!”

Rakesh Sangani, CEO and Founder, Proservartner

“Through many years of software development, in the area of process automation in both the O2C and S2P cycles, Esker is delighted to be working in partnership with Proservartner to enable a wider reach of sales and the implementation our solutions. Together, we will expand the benefits that can be gained from adopting the latest AI-driven technologies for process automation, and unlock strategic value for Finance, Procurement and Customer Service professionals. We look forward to strengthening our relationship in the coming months!”

Alistair Nicholas, Managing Director, Esker Northern Europe
